ONE for Books!

What is it?

Weston School will be collection donations for Scholastic's One for Books program during the week prior to the book fair and at the fair itself. For each dollar raised, Scholastic will donate a book, in Weston's name, to one of three organizations.

The Marine Toys for Tots Foundation,
Kids in Distressed Situations, Inc.,
National Center for Family Literacy.

How will we raise money?

We are asking for students to bring in donations following this schedule:

Monday, March 23rd – pennies only
Tuesday, March 24th – nickels only
Wednesday, March 25th – dimes only
Thursday, March 26th – quarters only
Friday, March 27th – dollars only

Donations can also be made by local businesses. Feel free to show the information on the back of this flyer to any organizations that might like to help. Please contact the school if you have a business that would like to contribute. Donations will also be accepted at the Book Fair,

Each class will also need...

6 empty containers, 1 for each day of the week, and one for the fair which students can decorate. They need to have a wide enough opening at the top to drop coins in.

How does this put books in my child's classroom?

Teachers will be able to spend whatever funds their class raises at the book fair to buy books and material for their own classroom.

What about the classroom that raises the most money?

The classroom that raises the most money will have an Oobleck party.

Oobleck is from the Dr. Seuss book Bartholomew and the Oobleck.

Making it (from cornstarch and water) is a fun way to learn about solids and liquids in science. It acts like a liquid when being poured, but like a solid when a force is acting on it. You can grab it and then it will ooze out of your hands. Make enough Oobleck and you can even walk on it!

The class who raises the most money will get to fill a kid's play pool with Oobleck. They will get to poke it, squeeze it, and even try to run across it.
